Introduction

Charing Cross Housing Association recognises and values the contribution you make as a voluntary member and the responsibility the role carries. It also recognises the importance of ensuring that staff and Committee members demonstrate the highest standards of ethical behaviour when managing the Association's business, representing the Association or acting on its behalf.

As a Registered Social Landlord (RSL) the Association is required to adopt and comply with an appropriate Code of Conduct ¹. This Code sets out the requirements and expectations which are attached to your role as a member of our Management Committee. It is based on the Model Code of Conduct produced by the Scottish Federation of Housing Associations which the Scottish Housing Regulator (SHR) has confirmed fully complies with its Regulatory Standards.

The Code of Conduct is an important part of the Association's governance framework. By adhering to the principles of the Code you are demonstrating your commitment to always act in the best interests of the Association and to conducting yourself with honesty and integrity.

In accepting a position on the Management Committee you are accepting that you have a personal responsibility to uphold the requirements of this Code. You cannot be a member of the Governing Body if you do not agree to adopt this Code of Conduct and to confirm that you understand its requirements and accept its terms, you are required to review and sign this Code annually.

Scottish Housing Regulator

The Scottish Housing Regulator's 'Standards of Governance and Financial Management' sets out a number of requirements relating to conduct that Committee Members have to comply with:

Standard
1.4	All governing body members accept collective responsibility for their decisions.
1.6	Each governing body member always acts in the best interests of the RSL and its tenants and service users, and does not place any personal or other interest ahead of their primary duty to the RSL. The RSL maintains its independence by conducting its affairs without control, undue reference to or influence by any other body (unless it is constituted as the subsidiary of another body).
5.1	The RSL conducts its affairs with honesty and integrity and, through the actions of the governing body and staff, upholds the good reputation of the RSL and the sector.
5.2	The RSL upholds and promotes the standards of behaviour and conduct it expects of governing body members and staff through an appropriate code of conduct. It manages governing body members' performance, ensures compliance and has a robust system to deal with any breach of the code.

5.3	The RSL pays due regard to the need to eliminate discrimination, advance equality and foster good relations across the range of protected characteristics in all areas of its work, including its governance arrangements.
5.4	Governing body members and staff declare and manage openly and appropriately any conflicts of interest and ensure they do not benefit improperly from their position.

Who the Code Applies to

This Code of Conduct applies to all elected, appointed and co-opted members of the Management Committee and any sub-committees of Charing Cross Housing Association.

How the Code is Structured

The Code is based on the seven principles laid out which are recognised as demonstrating honesty, integrity and probity and as providing a framework for good governance ².

Each of the seven principles is described as it applies to the activities of the Housing Association and its Management Committee members. Supporting guidance is also provided for each principle to give more explanation on the Code's requirements. The guidance is not exhaustive and Committee members are responsible for ensuring that their conduct at all times meets the high standards that the Registered Social Landlord sector is recognised for upholding.

Introduction

The Association recognises that being a member of the Management Committee is only one part of your life and that other parts of your life may have the potential to cross over into your role as a Committee Member. These could include family, friends and neighbours, voluntary work and causes you support, business or financial interests or even your own housing arrangements.

However, Charing Cross Housing Association works for the community and uses public funds and it is therefore essential that there is no conflict or cause for a reasonable perception of conflict between your duties as a Committee Member and your personal, personal business or financial interests.

Any potential conflict between your position as a member of the Management Committee and your other interests must be openly declared and effectively managed so as to protect the good reputation of Charing Cross Housing Association and the RSL sector.

Wherever you have a personal business or financial interest in any matter that is relevant to our activities or is being considered (or is likely to be considered) or you know that someone to whom you are closely connected has such an interest, you must declare it promptly and record it in the Register of Interests.

This appendix gives further guidance on how to declare and manage any personal (including personal business or financial) interests

Examples of Interests that must be declared

The following are examples of the kind of interest that you must declare. Please note that this list is not exhaustive, and there may be other interests that you should also declare.

- Tenancy of a property (by you or someone to whom you are closely connected) of which we are the landlord.
- Occupancy or ownership of a property (by you or someone to whom you are closely connected) which is factored or receives property related services from us.

- Receipt of care or support services from us.
- Membership of a community or other voluntary organisation that is active in the area(s) we serve.
- Voluntary work with another RSL or with an organisation that does, or is likely to do, business with us.

- Membership of the governing body of another RSL.
- Being an elected member of any local authority where we are active.
- If you purchase goods or services from us.
- If you purchase goods or services from one of our approved contractors or Framework Agreement partners.
- Significant shareholding in a company that we do business with.
- Membership of a political, campaigning or other body whose interests and/or activities may affect our work or activities.
- Ownership of land or property in our areas of operation excluding for the purpose of your own residential use (ie there is no requirement for you to declare any house in which you currently live).
- Unresolved dispute relating to the provision of services in connection with a tenancy or occupancy agreement or a contractual dispute over the provision of goods or services with us.

If you are not sure if you need to declare a certain matter, speak to either the Chair or the Director for guidance but if you are still in doubt, the advice is to declare the interest.

It is important to remember however, that in some circumstances declaration of an interest may not be sufficient and the Association may have to take additional measures to deal with the situation in order to satisfactorily protect the integrity, probity and reputations of both you as a Committee Member and the Association.

Definition of ‘Close Connection’

Principle 3, point 8 of this Code states that “You, or someone closely connected to you cannot as a result of your role with us receive preferential treatment relating to any services provided by the organisation or its contractors/suppliers”.

As such, as well as considering your own actions, you must also be aware of the potential risk created by the actions of people to whom you are closely connected. This includes family members and persons who might reasonably be regarded as similar to family members even where there is no relationship by birth or law.

Who you should consider and our expectations on you to identify and declare such actions are outlined in Table A.

Table A
Group	Required Response
1. Members of your household This includes: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ➤ Anyone who normally lives as part of your household (whether related to you or otherwise) ➤ Those who are part of your household but work or study away from home 	We expect you to be aware of and declare any relevant actions of all people in your household. You must take steps to identify, declare and manage these.
2. Partner, Relatives and friends <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ➤ This includes: ➤ Your partner (if not part of household) ➤ Your relatives and their partners ➤ Your partner's close relatives (i.e. parent, child, brother or sister) ➤ Your close friends ➤ Anyone you are dependent upon or who is dependent upon you ➤ Acquaintances (such as neighbours, someone you know socially or business contacts/associates) 	Where you have a close connection and are in regular contact with anyone within this group, we expect you to be aware of and declare any relevant actions. Under these circumstances, you must take steps to identify, declare and manage these actions. Where you do not have a close connection and regular contact with someone in this group, we do not expect you to be aware of or to go to unreasonable lengths to identify any relevant actions. However, if you happen to become aware of relevant actions by such individuals, then these should be declared and managed as soon as possible.

What You Need to Consider

There are a number of relevant actions/involvement by those whom you are closely connected to that you should consider, declare and manage as per our expectations outlined in Table A including;

- A significant interest in a company or supplier that the Association does business with. A significant interest means ownership (whole or part) or a substantial shareholding in a business that distributes profits, but does not include where an individual has shares in large companies such as banks, utility companies or national corporations, i.e. where owning shares would not give the individual any significant influence over the activities of that organisation.
- Where the individual may benefit financially from a company with which the Association does business

- Involvement in the management of any company or supplier with which the Association does business
- Involvement in tendering for or the management of any contract for the provision of goods or services to the Association.
- Application for employment with the Association.
- Application to join the Association's Management Committee or any of its subsidiaries
- Application to be a tenant or service user of the organisation
- If they are an existing tenant or service user of the organisation

Practical Arrangements for Declaring Personal Interests

Members of the Management Committee are required, on appointment, to complete Declaration form to register any personal interests that could potentially conflict with their role as a Committee Member. To ensure the Register remains up-to-date, members will also be required to complete a new Declaration form annually and/or whenever there is a material change.

Members must keep their own individual entry in the Register of Interests up to date, add any new interests as soon as they arise and amend existing interests as soon as any change takes effect.

Members invited to be present at a meeting where a matter in which they have a personal interest (or a personal business or financial interest) is discussed must inform the Chair of the meetings at the start of proceedings or as soon as they become aware of the conflict. In these circumstances, members will be required to leave the meeting for the duration of that particular item of business.

Where there is any doubt, clarification and guidance should be sought from the Chair or from another senior person present.

This applies to all meetings, both internally and externally, attended as a member of the Management Committee.

Any failure to make a complete, accurate and prompt declaration - whether deliberately or through taking insufficient care - will be regarded as a breach of this Code.

1.0 Introduction

- 1.1 This procedure sets out the arrangements that will normally apply to potential breaches of the Code of Conduct, which are defined as;
- Breaches of the Code of Conduct (the Code) that occur during a meeting and involve a member being obstructive, offensive or disregarding the authority of the Chair
 - Other complaints about the conduct of a Member of the Governing Body
 - Information that suggests that there may have been a breach of the Code by a member of the Governing Body.
- 1.2 The Chair has delegated authority to deal with potential breaches of the Code, subject to Clause 2.1 below. The Chair has delegated authority, in consultation with other office-bearers, to instruct, progress and conclude investigations carried out in accordance with this protocol.
- 1.3 A breach of the Code is a Notifiable Event, The Chair is responsible for ensuring that the necessary notifications are made to the Scottish Housing Regulator as soon as any breach comes to light, and that the SHR's requirements (as set out in the Scottish Housing Regulator's Guidance on Notifiable Events 2019) in terms of reporting the outcome of the investigation are met.

2.0 Conduct at Meetings

- 2.1 Alleged breaches that occur during the course of a meeting (and which have not happened before) will normally be dealt with by the Chair or sub-committee Convenor, either during the meeting and/or within 24 hours of the meeting.

In these circumstances, the Chair may ask the member to leave the meeting or a vote may be taken to exclude the member from the rest of the meeting. After the meeting, the Chair or sub-committee Convenor will discuss such behaviour with the member and may require the member to apologise or take such other action as may be appropriate.

Where the Chair regards such behaviour as being very serious, it may also be investigated subsequently in accordance with the terms of this protocol, as will repeated incidents of a similar nature.

3.0 Other Complaints

- 3.1 It is recognised that potential breaches of the Code of Conduct may occur beyond (Name of Organisation's) premises (e.g. whilst a Governing Body member is at an external meeting, attending a training event or conference or otherwise representing us, or whilst engaging in social networking). Potential breaches may also involve inappropriate conduct in relation to colleagues, staff or service users. Potential breaches may also involve failure to follow the requirements of an approved policy.
- 3.2 A potential breach of the Code, including repeated instances of poor conduct at meetings, will normally be the subject of an investigation, which will be managed by the Chair.
- 3.3 Not all potential breaches will be the subject of complaints or allegations. Where they are, they do not have to be made in writing but the Chair and Secretary/Senior Officer should ensure that there is always a written statement of the complaint or allegation that is used as the basis for the investigation.
- 3.4 In the event that an allegation is made anonymously, it will be investigated as thoroughly as possible, although it is recognised that it may not be possible to conclude any such investigation satisfactorily.

4.0 Investigation of a Potential Breach

- 4.1 Allegations of a breach should normally be made to the Chair or, where the complaint relates to the Chair, to another office-bearer. The Chair or office-bearer, in consultation with the other office-bearers, will decide whether to instruct an independent investigation or whether to carry out an internal investigation. No one who has any involvement in the complaint or the circumstances surrounding it will play any part in the investigation.
- 4.2 A potential breach of the Code of Conduct (other than that which is being dealt with as described at 2.1) will be notified to the Governing Body by the Secretary within seven working days either of occurring or of receipt of the complaint. The notice will include a report on the proposed arrangements for investigation (but will not describe the detail of the complaint) and a recommendation of a suitable person to carry out the investigation. This recommendation should be made by the Chair who may seek advice from our solicitors.
- 4.3 All investigations will be objective and impartial. A potential breach of the Code of Conduct will normally be investigated by an independent person, unless it is decided that an internal investigation is appropriate (as set out at 4.1).

- 4.4 An internal investigation will be carried out by three Members of the Governing Body, not including the Chair, who will make a report and recommendations to the Governing Body. They will be supported in the conduct of the investigation by the Senior Officer.
- 4.5 Where the potential breach relates to the Chair or other office bearer, an independent investigation will always be carried out.
- 4.6 An independent investigation will normally be overseen by the Chair and one other office bearer, with support from the Senior Officer. In the event that the alleged breach relates to the Chair, one of the other office-bearers will act to fulfil the responsibilities ascribed to the Chair
- 4.7 The Chair and other office-bearer, with any support they feel necessary, will brief the agreed advisor/investigator and then consider their recommendations at the end of the investigation, before reporting to the Governing Body. (Name of Organisation) should always provide the investigator with a written brief that sets out the nature of the complaint and of the investigation to be carried out, as well as a timescale for completion and reporting. The brief may refer to any action previously taken that is relevant. Investigations should not usually take more than six weeks to conclude. The advisor/investigator will normally present their report to the Governing Body.
- 4.8 Any investigation of a potential breach should be notified to the individual concerned within seven days of the decision to investigate. The Governing Body Member must be notified in writing of the nature of the complaint and the arrangements proposed for investigation.
- 4.9 The Governing Body Member whose conduct is being investigated will not be party to any of the discussions relating to the investigation. Any Governing Body Member who is the subject of a complaint is expected to co-operate with any investigation carried out. The Governing Body should agree to grant leave of absence to a member who is the subject of a complaint whilst an investigation is carried out.
- 4.10 A meeting of the Governing Body will be held to consider the report and recommendations from the investigation and to determine what action should be taken against any individual who is found to have been in breach of the Code.
- 4.11 The Governing Body will report the findings of the investigation and the proposed action to the member concerned within seven days of the meeting at which the report of the investigation was considered.
- 4.12 Where, following an investigation, it is concluded that a serious breach has occurred, the Governing Body may require the member to stand down from their position in accordance with the Rules.

- 4.13 If the Governing Body proposes to remove a member, following investigation, the member will have the right to address the full Governing Body before their decision is taken at a special meeting called for that purpose. Any such decision must be approved by a (majority/two thirds)¹ of the remaining members of the Governing Body, in accordance with Rule (X)

5.0 Action to Deal with a Breach

- 5.1 If, following investigation, a breach of the Code is confirmed, action will be taken in response that will reflect the seriousness of the circumstances. It may take the form of some or all of the following:
- an informal discussion with the member concerned
 - advice and assistance on how his or her conduct can be improved
 - the offer of training or other form of support
 - a formal censure
 - a vote to remove the Member from the Governing Body
- 5.2 The outcome of any investigation will be notified to the Scottish Housing Regulator.
